

Dear AMCHAM Thailand members,

As you may be aware the Thai Food and Drug Authority (FDA) has recently issued licenses for Rapid Antigen Self-Test kits for sale through pharmacies.

We are more than aware that many businesses wish to provide these tests for their employees to keep their staff feeling safe and their operations running effectively.

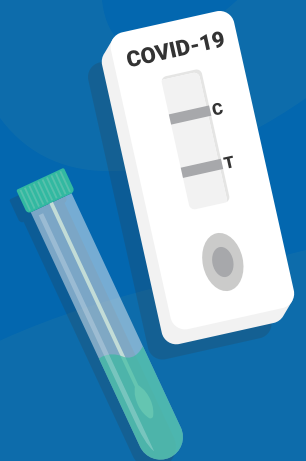

As a member of AMCHAM Thailand. Boots Thailand is now offering to secure supply for AMCHAM Thailand member businesses as we anticipate demand will significantly outstrip supply.

Boots through its global supply arrangements have access to the leading manufacturers and the supply will start from 21st July onwards but it is anticipated to take some time to meet likely demand.

If members wish to register interest to secure supply of these test kits, please complete the enclosed form by scanning the following QR Code and a Boots representative will be in contact soon after to provide further details.

* At time of writing the procurement and Retail prices of these COVID test kits has not been finalised however we anticipate each test will be in the region of 300-380 Baht each. Boots will endeavour to offer AMCHAM members a members price once finalised.
